PHOENIX (Ariz.) Sept. 28. (Exclusive)—The storm that has covered Arisona during the past three days is believed at an end save for scattered showers. It was lightest at Yuma, where there was little precipitation, and heaviest in Southeastern Arisona. Douglas has had more than six inches of rain, with resultant flooding of the region and stoppage of travel on the paved Bisbee-Douglas highway, under water for a day from the rising Agua Prieta River. Bisbee is reported badly washed. Fed by the storms of Northern Sonora, the San Pedro River reached a dangerous flood stage, feeding the already swollan Gila River. Scores of adobe homes melted down in Agua Prieta, across the line from Douglas, while a great lake formed in the outskirts of the Mexican town. At Nogales much damage was done to the military camp, situated in a ravine and flood waters tore down the city streets.

With three inches of rainfall, Safford and other upper Gils Valley towns suffered much Jood damage. A hay-filled barn at Thatcher was struck by liguning and destroyed by fine. Plorence also suffered flood conditions with canals breaking from the flow of desert waters.

Automobile travel has been held up generally from Phoenix eastward. Automobile travel to the Coast by the southern route is blocked for an indefinite period by the raing Gila, with the apron crossing at the Gilleple dam reported about four feet deep in water, with 200 cars marooned beyond it.

For 10 hours the 15,000-ton ship was at the mercy of a gale which attained a velocity of 100 miles, lashed up mountainous seas, crushed two of the Narenta's crew beneath huge steel boom crutches, flooded the holds and living quarters and ripped everything movable from the ship's topsides. The wind was of such force that its blowing against the frail whistle cord caused the whistle to blow continually, sithough 22-pound lead weights were suspended from it. The Narenta's radio equipment was wrecked at the height of the gale.

Two days later, when the Narenta reached Puama, Seamen J. D. Winch and W. Ash were taken to a shore hospital in critical condition; Winch with his shoulder and chest crushed and Ash with an arm broken in two places. Both men were hurled the length of the deck by the force of the gale.

Here, men, are the outstanding values in the history of the John Wright Institution . . . here are tailored-to-measure values that exceed in worth anything ever offered before . . . and these "newer values" are the result of keen foresight on the part of the buyers of woolens for John Wright and their ability to purchase in BIG LOTS for each. The savings on tramendous yardage purchases of fine woolens are reflected in the savings John Wright makes for his customers. They are rare values indeed that are offered for the Fall season and represent a quality that compares favorably with suits selling for a considerably higher price.

Perfectly Tailored

In the great John Wright workshops none but the best craftsmen in the tailoring profession are employed. The men who produce the garments for John Wright customers are just as anxious to produce garments that meet the approval of the wearer as the wearer is to have them RIGHT. Because of this Tuc. John Wright is known thro ghout the length and breadth of the land as THE RIGHT TAILOR. Every one of these two-pants suits is perfectly tailored to your individual measure and finished in the same way as much higher priced garments.

On of the Important things to remember is that John Wright hacks of every suit he makes with his personal Iron-Clad Guarantee of "Complete Tailoring Satisfaction." More than 30,000 men in Los Angeles have some friends and boosters of John Wright because of the care which is exercised by the fitters and finishers in filling every requirement of theirs in these Two-Pants Suits. # RABBIT PUNCHES TIGERMAN HERE FOR ERE'S a quiet tip for Howard Jones. Look out for the Bucking Broncos of Santa Ciara College next Saturday afternoof. My friend Eugene Vinasaa, the demon sports editor of the San Jose Mercury Herald, saw the California-Santa Ciara game at Berkeley last Catra game at Berkeley last Saturday and he writes me that the Broncs are anything but soft pickings.

"They will give the Trojans lots of trouble Saturday down in your home city of the Angels," he says. "Adam Walsh's gridders completely outclassed the Golden Bears in the second half of their game at Berkeley last Saturday." All of which is quite in line with what Cliff Herd, chief assistant to Jones, told Braven Dyer after he had scouted the Bear-Bronc game.

Eugene also has some comments to make concerning young Mister Ruby Goldstein, who fought Billy Alger in his Callfornia debut at Dreamland last Friday night, which Indicate the Gotham boxer is a real fighter. "Alger's victory is credited as being a technical kayo, but by a queer turn of fate Goldstein had to quit at the end of the fifth round because of an injury to his foot. I saw Demsky battle Roscoe Hall and know he is tough, but if Ruby's foot is O. K.

he will hand Paul an artistic lacing."
Concerning fights, Vinassa is a very prolific writer, and he declares he will be on hand when Jack Willis, the hard-hitting cowboy, meets Leo Lomski in the neat Vernon show after the Fidel La Barba-Newshoy Brown match Tuesday. Willis did quite a little fighting around San Jose, enough at any rate for the residents thereof to take a lot of interest and pride in his activities.

Just as Willis stopped Bert Colima the first time they met, so Eugene predicts he will flatten the Punching Pole from Aberdeen, Wash. He quotes Tim McGrath to this effect: "Lomski is wide open for a right-hand punch and Willis will catch him with his right. Boys like Joe Roche and Colima can't hurt Lomski, but Willis will."

"Twenty-five years ago my partner," said Tom Sharkey, pointing to big Jim Jeffries, "could have licked Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney and Harry Wills all in the same ring the same night. That's what I think of Gene Tunney as a champion," concluded the famous old sailor, who with Jimmy the Jeff is appearing at the Hillstreet Theater this week. Which addsone more witness to the huge list who believe that Tunney is more or less a cheese champion.

GRIZZLIES BATTLE LOYOLA

Lions Display Plenty of Power in Hard-Fought Scrimmage; Branch Fares Badly

A smattering of skeptical football fans gathered on the local University of California tanbark yesterday afternoon to witness a scrimmage session, and came away with the impression that they had seen considerable of a football team. The team that left that impression was not Coach Bill Spaulding's Grizzlies, but Coach Bill Hess's Loyola College Lions, a school that appears to have arrived in a football way after several years of being the under dog. that appears to have arrived in a football way after several years of being the under dog.

Grid fans who were knocked out of their opening season sophistication by the now famous 7-to-7 tie game in any sense of the word, as both teams took the ball over on the forty-yard line, with the ball in their possession for periods of five minutes.

Hess employs a shift that might be compared to a modined suplain the tie away with a fiundred and one reasons, but the one big reason is this, that Loyola apparently has one of the best football squads, weight for weight in this end of the Golden State.

HE reaction of the man who picks the loser is the same in every sport. The sour remarks of all the "experts" regarding Mr. Tunney's ability bring the point to mind. It seems to be the natural thing for the man who picks one individual or one team to bent another, when his choice is defeated, to come out and state that the win-ner is terrible. We all heard ner is terrible. We all heard that last year when everybody picked U.S.C. to beat Stanford and the Cardinals won. You couldn't get a good word for Stanford out of any of the "carperts," all of whom uniformly agreed that the Cardinals won because U.S.C. was rotten, despite the fact that twenty-four hours previously they had been insisting that the Trojans were the greatest football team in the world. The same thing holds true with Tunney, who is being uniformly roasted by all the "experts," who insist that he won because Dempsey was terrible, when their own statements published before the fight insisted that the champion was in rare and excellent form. Our own suspicion is that when the other guy wins you ought to give him credit, no matter how much of a bum prophet he proves you to be.

Brainerd Dyer, who played guard at Pomona while brother Braven was playing end, writes an interesting letter from the East. Both boys have sunk to low estate from being good football players, Braven into writing sports and Brainered into teaching at Dartmouth. Brainered says that little Eddle Dooley, who was the poet laureste as well as the star quarterback at Dartmouth a couple of years ago. Is back again and welghs a mere 183 pounds on the hoof, which is pretty good for a poet and even better for a quarterback. However, Brainerd adds some interesting stuff about Harvard and the new Crimson coaching staff, with Arnold Horween sitting in to take the place of Percy Haughton and Fisher.

He says Horween is expected to make good, adding: "He has his brother Ralph in charg of the backfield, and two Middle West men helping him on the line, we millionis man on the ends, and a Wisconsin man on the guards and tackles. That is a more cosmopolitan staff than usual, I think." It certainly is a departure from the usual Harvard practice and ought to result in a lot of brand new ideas in the play of the Crimson. Something exciting might have been expected from Harvard when they went so far as to take a former professional player as head coach after their own profession game. Horween, however, is the finest type of man and ought to do very well, indeed.

Taking the ball —n the forty-yard marker, Loyola twice carried the ball to the Grizzly five-yard line within the five-minute period. Using a diversified attack, the Lions gained ground almost at will, and completed several passes for considerable gain. Coach Spaulding secured the Loyola scrimmage to give the Branch a hard workout, and he wasnt in the least disappointed. The practice displayed a multitude of weak points that the Sants Barbara game failed to disclose, and Spaulding plans considerable hard work before the San Diego contest two weeks away.

PINCUS, ZORILLA

Consternation has been hurled into the ranks of the Southern California Conference by the results of last Saturday's games Occidental's proud position as favorite is now occupied by two or three other teams struggling for recognition, with the Tigers regarded as having only an outside chance. On the strength of Saturday's showing the Grizzlies, Caltech and Fomons share the calcium, with Oxy and Whittier weaker than had been anticipated.

Nat Pincus will oppose Santiago Zorilla in the ten-round main event at the Wilmington Athletic Club tonight, substituting for Tiger Ponce, who damaged his hand in a recent bout. Pincus, according to those in the know, is a better foe for the clever little Panaman, who has lost but one decision in twenty-five starts. He won pulling up in his last start at the harbor arens, but this time will be tested to the ut-most, because Pincus is a smart little fighter and defeated Kid Ponce last time he was here. In the six-round semi-wind-up, Albert Jacks will take on Frankie Boldt, while in the six-round special event Eddie (Kayo) Brown is booked for tussel with Leo Mitchell. In the fours Sailor vialerant and Joe Reinhardt and Emmett Tolman and Bruce Mitchell are the principals.

Shocker is the logical man for the opener, because it would give him a chance to rest up sufficiently to appear in the first battie at St. Louis on Tuesday. Having spent years of service in that park Shocker knows how to pitch there. What's more, a good spitball pitcher will average far more ground balls than long flies, and in a field with a short right-field fence made to order for hitters such as Southworth, Bottomiey and Hornsby, this is an important item.

Because of preponderance of right-handed sluggers the Cards have been considered death on southpaws. Some National League managers were afraid to pitch portsiders against them. Tet they were besten by managers who did not share in this belief. Trescon was that the Cards saw few southpaws and when one did bob up in front of them they were forced to hit at something they weren't secustomed to. Fennock, with his slow ball and control, will ordinarily bother any free-swinging team of hitters such as the Cardinals.

By the same process Sherdel should be able to make the Yanks leap over the back fence, unless he should happen to have an attack of the shakes such as some of his nates experienced when they really realised they were going to win a pennant.

Huggins has another experienced left-hander in Dutch Reuther, who would not regard it as anything unusual to pitch to National League hitters. He has done it before. If pressed for help Huggins undoubtedly will give Reuther a call, particularly for relief work. The Yankees also boast of a number of others who, while not safe starters, are able

Custom Design Insures Safe Driving

THE Studebaker Custom Sedan has an advanced type of full-vision steel body which increases driving safety, particularly in crowded traffic.

Narrow front pillars, a wide one-piece wind-shield and wide windows permit the maximum visibility. Four-wheel brakes, full-size balloon tires, rear-vision mirror, two-beam acorn headlights controlled from the steering wheel, and front and rear bumpers are added factors of security.

Women, admiring the custom beauty and luxury of this car available at conventional car cost, will be no less appreciative of this careful provision for safety. It will need only a demonstration ride to convince you that here, at last, is the car you have been seeking.

To describe the costly extra process which lifts Luckies out of the ordinary would take a volume of technical description.

But you can get the results instantly because in a Lucky Strike you'll find the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos properly aged, perfectly blended -and something more.

You'll realize that there is something about them which gives them dis tinction.

All because of an extra process-toasting.

When you smoke Luckies, you'll find:

Finer Flavor. Toasting for 45 minutes develops the hidden flavors of the world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos.

2. Smoothness. Toasting for 45 minutes removes all "bite" and harshness, hence never any throat irritation.

3. Freshness. Then the tobacco is suddenly chilled. This seals the flavor in and insures constant freshness.

Thus the toasting process is an addition. It adds a unique and distinct improvement to a cigarette that has already been made from the finest Turkish and domestic tobacco. It is the reason millions prefer Lucky Strikes.

That's Why Luckies Taste So Good

German Spokesman Talks for Stresemann

Poincare Question Declared Belonging to Past

Schurman Commendation of Nation Cited

BERLIN, Sept. 28. (P)—Foreign injuster Stresemann has no intendent of answering Premier Poincare's peech of Sunday, in which he injusted upon Germany's responsibility for the war, a Foreign Office spokesman declared emphatically today.

"Poincare has had his say, and the road which M. Briand (French For-eign Minister) and Dr. Stresemann intend to travel is now clear," the spokesman added.

"Why should Germany reply to a man who is looking back, whose mind ts in the past? Our mind is on the future. These questions of war guilt, and so forth, belong to the past."
He pointed out in neither of the French Fremier's week-end speeches was there anything to indicate disavowal of M. Briand's course in reaching the basis of an understanding with Dr Stresemann during their recent conversations at Geneva and Thoiry.

DECLARES OPTIMISM

While we are fully aware of the sability that Poincare may influence the plans for a Franco-German derstanding adversely." he continuity there is an optimistic feeling at Briand and Stressmann will two stronger than the French Preser."

ing the peace idea to which M. Briand has given expression, but as placing serious obstacles in its way."

"If he expects the new Germany to condemn the Germany of 1914," says the Rundschau, "This expectation is energetically rejected by us."

The Tageblatt is of the opinion that M. Poincare must be doubtful regarding the success of his financial rehabilitation plans, for, it says, he would not have returned to his former Stunday habits of making speeches like that he just delivered.

This paper, however, does not take the speech too seriously, for it is convinced that the policy followed by M. Briand and Dr. Stresemann, in their discussions at Thoiry after Germany was elected to the League of Nations, is the right one and is supported by a majority of Frenchmen and Germans."

ELIHU ROOT

HIS world announcement is appearing simulta-neously in all the principal cities of every civilized country on the face of the globe. It is the announcement for which millions of Englishspeaking people all over the world have been watching and waiting.

NOW the huge Britannica presses are fast turning out the final pages of the new 13th Edition of this incomparable Encyclopaedia, which for more than a century and a half has recorded and interpreted the knowledge of each age—always progressing-always in advance of its time

This Thirteenth Edition sets a new high standard of interest and timeliness, of utility and value, never before approached or even attempted. It carries you right up to the very forefront of human progress. It reflects as in a mirror the amazing triumphs and achievements of today. It contains the essence of a thousand books not yet written. So closely has the record followed the event that many facts not hitherto revealed, or even rumored, are now presented for the first time by their original discoverers.

A Brilliant Achievement

To bring this panorama of all nations and all peoples fully up-to-date—to give a true, authentic picture of the world today—to revive and enhance that intellectual co-operation which the war interrupted—this has been a task demanding extraordinary enthusiasm, ability and resource.

Dedicated by Permission to PresidentCoolidgeand KingGeorgeV

Under the splendid direction of the new Editor-in-Chief, JAMES LOUIS GARVIN (who, as editor of the London Observer, has amply demonstrated the power of his pen in world affairs), this great enterprise has been most brilliantly accomplished. It is dedicated by permission to the two heads of the English-Speaking Peoples, President Coolidge and

Without the vast resources of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, without its prestige, its unswerving adherence to an ideal, its tradition of excellence—the international co-operation vital to the success of such a work could never have

More than 2,500 authorities, from every civilized country in the world, have contributed the 45,000 separate articles which combine to make this work the finished utterance of the human race. No less than 22 Nobel Prize Winners—including practically all the living recipients of that coveted honor—are numbered among these contributors.

To the 28 volumes of the latest standard edition, have been added three new volumes and a new, enlarged Index volume. These 32 volumes comprise the complete Thirteenth Edition, which brings you right up to the threshold of tomorrow.

To further this momentous enterprise, the archives of Governments were freely opened. Presidents and Prime Ministers, Soldiers and Philosophers of many nations have willingly aided in furnishing material. For knowledge knows no narrow partisan spirit, no border lines of race, or creed or nationality. Its diffusion serves the cause of all humanity.

The Threshold of Tomorrow

This age of speed and sweeping change marks a new era in human progress—a time of opportunity such as the world has never known before.

In sixteen years the world has gained a century!

These transforming years have brought about a complete revolution in human thought and action. A new generation has grown up and come forward—a generation that differs radically from the pre-war anticipations of its elders. Our old conceptions of time and space, of matter and energy, have been dissolved or modified. Even the axioms of Euclid, which we were taught to accept as self-evident, have been challenged. And thinking men and women are examining anew the mysteries of human life and purpose.

Man is creating a better, finer world. New discoveries and inventions are daily placing new appliances and new facts at his disposal. Science has entered the market place; has formed with Industry and Commerce a partnership that vitally affects the lives of all.

The Automobile has brought the country to the city—the city to the farm. The Aeroplane is now almost a common-place in rapid transportation, The Movies are a potent and far-reaching influence in the lives of millions. And Radio is g scientists of school boys!

Every branch, every territory, of human knowledge has opened out into new channels. For every ten opportunities our fathers had, we have a hundred and the promise of a thousand for our children. By weighing present developments and anticipating the future, you may assure yourself of your full share of the advantages of this marvellous age.

A 2,500 Brain-Power Ally

The new Britannica is a 2,500-brain-power ally for the man or woman intent on getting everything possible out of life. It is an endless source of stimulation and interest. You could search endlessly through all the world's great libraries and never find, outside of the Britannica, the vital knowledge that is instantly accessible here. Only in these pages can you find the verdict of the leaders in every im-portant development—financial, commercial industrial, scienportant development—financial, commercial, industrial, scientific, professional and social. Be among the first to know, and apply, this timely information.

Para the most colorful thing about quaint Italy, next to its glarious scenic grandeur, is the charm or its dashing officers. There is about them a fascination - a bit of romance. # Greatest Wholesale Land Sale in California Today

The late Henry Miller, last of the old land barons of this state, who personally selected almost every acre of the immense Miller & Lux land holdings in the west side of the San Joaquin Valley that are now offered for sale by his heirs, was a noted authority on soil and land values.

Mr. Miller acquired ownership of many thousands of acres of the cream of the land in this region, which is one of the richest and most prosperous diversified farming sections on the Pacific Coast.

These lands, irrigated at cheapest cost by the Miller & Lux canal systems, include immense tracts of first-class alfalfa land in heavy bearing, as well as an enormous acreage of lands that produce big yields of cotton, corn, beans or any diversification of field and fruit crops.

They are offered at Wholesale Prices in tracts of all sizes and on easy terms.

Call at one of our offices for complete information or mail the coupon for our illustrated booklet on Miller & Lux Lands.

PARAGRAPHS Constructive Forces Keep the Finance Pfd. & Com.

Though the sharp contraction in collateral loans reported yesterday, which just about offset the increase shown in the previous week, was encouraging to constructive forces, the fixing of the renewal rate for call loans at 5 1-4 per cent tended to dampen bullish entitusiasm for the moment. Calling of some $12,500,000 in loans by bariks during the day reflected large demand from funds from other sources against the month end. In some quarters belief was expressed that a 6 per cent money rate was a possibility before the end of the week, but that passing of the month end strain would be followed by easier conditions.

Back in 1915, when to intimate that a German might, after all, be human, caused angry and suspicious glances to be cast at this speaker, the writer of this meek and timid column threw all the war shouters into speams by predicting that Germany would one day hold the fate of Europe in the hollow of her hands.

That prediction is now clearer of fulfillment. Inasmuch as she came

ON PARADE

Disaster may result from the increasing use of fire-fighting apparatus and fire-department personnel in parade and exhibitious, is the opinion of fire chiefs, as reported in a fire-prevention bulletin of the United States Chamber of Commerce. It is pitiful irony to have your house burn down while the fire guardians are out showing off. Ostentation may go before a fire.

Gov. Neilie Ross of Wyoming has been mominated by the Democrats to succeed herself and they say that the strongest Republican in the State declines to oppose her at the polls in November. A group of Democrats is talking about running her for Vice-President in 1928, but Neilie is wise and says she would prefer to be a Senator. As a Democrat she knows she would stand a poor chance of succeeding Helen Marks.

BRITISH DEMOCRACY

An American observer of the doings at the last court reception held by the British crown has discovered that, while the show within the palace is stereotyped and dull, the attitude of the crowd outside the gates is full of human interest. Here are a few of the remarks he culled from the spectators as they watched the big personages disembark from their chariots to be presented to royalty. "Ow, 'ere comes a skinny 'un." "This 'un's a lady—look at 'er feathers!" "Drink milk, dearle, it's fattening." "Don't be afraid o' the king, little ing." "Don't be afraid o' the king, little un, 'e dén't bite." "Carry on, grandma you can't stop now." The real people seem to be much the same all the world over.

F to President Coolidge the desirability of America resuming international relations with Russia.

Just what the Sherwood-Eddy Commission is and who commissioned it to make its all-too-superficial investigation of soviet affairs does not appear in the dispatches, but it would seem that it went to Russia with that sort of predisposition in favor of the goviet government which would have enabled it to make its report without havenabled it to make its report without hav-ing crossed the Atlantic. The communica-tion to the President says that "the pres-ent government of Russia has, in our opin-ion, in its nine years of existence, under the most extreme tests, proved itself a stable and, so far as we can discern, an endurable government of the Russian peo-rits."

As to the stability and permanence of the povernment of the United Socialist Soviet Republics the President does not seem so much concerned as he does with the fact that it is not the kind of government with which we care to be related. In reply to which we care to be related. In reply to the commission's report it has been said on behalf of the President that this document had not influenced the administration to look with any more favor upon the idea of the recognition of the soviet government than formerly.

The United States will not recognize that government until it is satisfied that it will keep international agreements and obligations. Russis owes the United States $187, 722,000 in established credits, and this, with what she seized from our nationals and sequestrated, makes a grand total of over $800,000,000. None of this has she made the slightest effort to repay, nor has she over acknowledged the obligations.

President Coolidge's steadfast attitude as to Russian recognition has been that of his utterance on the subject in 1923, when he said:

We are awaiting evidence of the ex-istence of a government there that, in accordance with our standards, would warrant recognition, and one that has such a form and has adopted such poli-cies that we should be warranted in maying to the American people; "This is a government that meets these stand-ards and requirements, and you will be justified in making commitments ac-cordingly."

A great objection of the administration to the recognition of Russia has been the spread of Boishevist propaganda in this country, and it is unlikely that any real assurance ever will be given by the soviets that they will absolutely desist from such underhanded efforts.

dent has said:

Our government offers no objection to the carrying on of commerce by our citisens with the people of Russia. Our government does not propose, however, to enter into relations with another regime which refuses to recognize the sanctity of international obligations. I do not propose to barter away for the privilege of trade any of the cherished rights of humanity. I do not propose to make merchandise of any American principles. These rights and principles must go wherever the sanctions of our

On the whole it would seem that the Sherwood-Eddy Commission has done its work in vain and that it or any other inspired organization laboring for Russian recognition by this country would better desist from such labor until Russia comes to her senses, pays her just debts and ceases to send Bolshevist missionaries or literature to this country.

restrict of one dosen't put too much sis on the word "pleasure."

Apostle of gloom and high priest of pessimism, Dean Inge of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, has embellished the prophecy made in the triumphant year of 1918, that the glory England snatched from the World War would prove to be the glory of the sunset. The Gloomy Dean sees Great Britain already passing as a world power. Unlike his protetype, Jeremiah, warning the nation for its own good, his words serve to hasten the twilight his eloquence de-

If the teacher had offered a prize to the child who might have been true protection of any parents out of a respectable sum for his savings account, seems a little unfair to less fortunate pupils—pupils who, in some cases, might have been more worthy of commendation because of their efforts to economize.

If the teacher had offered a prize to the child who demonstrated the greatest economy. Service and thrift the offer would do. His latest lamentation is filled with bit-terness against the neighboring nations whose good will is essential to restore En-gland's foreign trade, without which the glory of England's sunset will soon be something smaller than the twinkle of a glow worm. Instead of attempting to re-store Britain's prestige in the manner one would expect from a Christian minister, Dean Inge seems to be bent on irritating those international hives that, with con-stant scratching, generate the poison sacs of war.

The United States possesses a large number of sincere Christians working for the high ideal of peace and good will. Yet this British minister, of the gospel directs envenomed shafts of a particularly offensive nature against a people from whom the peace of the world has nothing to fear.

He joins with the sensation-seeking coverie of the British press in plastering our government with the opprobrious label of Shylock. He rails at the "intense concentration of the American people upon what they consider their own interests." He enlarges on the prevailing uniriendliness of larges on the prevailing unfriendliness of America to the British, as exemplified in the utterances of American politicians and newspapers.

This dean of a cathedral named for St.

Paul the Apostie only promotes enmity between two people who, but for the whipe and seorpions, would be the best of friends. He awakens resentment by suggesting that the only reason why there is no war likely between America and England is because the principle of the control of the "the British government invariably gives way." He manufactures a grievance against us for our immigration laws, and winds up with:

The future of Canada is problematical. Its chief safeguard is that it is not to the interest of the United States to conquer it. If the British flag was hauled down on the American continent it is more than possible that the nations of Europe, enraged by bloated prosperity and airs of superiority of "the man who won the war" would combine to draw Shylock's teeth.

But it must be remembered that these are the words of a divine in that institution designed for the spread of Christian principles, the Church of England, and that they were broadcast in the publication of a series of works by various authors on "The Modern World."

The firebrand from London's big eathedral should at least remember that the Ninth Commandment is still an integral part of the Decalogue, As a hastener of the British sunset nobody doubts that the Gloomy Dean is a raven.

BIGHER STANDARD

A In one of our public schools recently a teacher requested her pupils to bring their bank books to school in order that she might check up on their savings during the last year, promising certain rewards to the child who should make the best showing. Her motive, of course, was to impress her charges with the value of forming the habit of economy and saving, for their individual good and for the social welfare.

However, the suggestion of a reward to the child who might have had the good for time (and without, possibly, any real prace). A lot, we do not think we'd care to share. HIGHER STANDARD

DUSTING A BUTTON

One of the most impressive and saddest sights recorded in the catalogue of human woe is revealed when a pompous person "busts a button." It usually occurs in one of those profound moments when the laws of nature assert themselves—let the results fall where they may.

Stupendous efforts generally go before terrible buckling up. By this is meant that too much wind is in serious peril of "busting" up the concern.

The Far West is the best place in the world to live in, to raise children in, to come to and stay in because it has more sutomobiles per 1000 of population and world to live in, to raise children in, to come to and stay in because it has more sutomobiles per 1000 of population and consumes more gasoline per car than any other region of similar dimensions on the globe. That's a real mouthful. Sounds like an old-time booster blurb, doesn't it? Look at it this way: The possession of a car per family indicates a huge purchasing power in every stratum of the population. Gasoline consumption indicates that the families are using the bus. More families in the Far West have more money to spend for rubber rides, which means that they can afford to send their children to school for a longer time than anywhere else. Which in turn means broader education, better citizens, a wider, deeper democracy. And school statistics confirm the deductions drawn from automobile ownership figures.

Sagebrush or seashore, mountain or valley, desert or dank forest, the Far West is dark and sordid secret; but any pants that swell up with too much afflatus are marked for a drop.

THE RIDDLE OF THE SOUTH

from an external viewpoint, and cannot be regarded as standing at its center and projecting its expression outward, nevertheless they constitute an integral and important link in the chain of its development. Not only will their own art receive a fresh and powerful stimulus, but they perform the great service of introducing the very fact of artistic ideals and technic into a rapidly expanding life which must remain blind to ideal beauty without them.

The courage of these artistic pioneers is no whit less than that of those others who brokk the first trails across the mountains and over the deserts, and they are deserving of every encouragement and support from those to whom they have brought their high and henceforth indispensable service.

Materials and conditions for a new great culture are certainly not lacking in the American Southwest, even if we ignore the entire matter of advantageous climate and natural beauty. One of our chief remaining needs is to discover if the temper of the coming generation gives us room for hope in this direction.

The young people of the Southwest give, of their own accord, scanty attention to culture ideals and culture history. It is all too remote for them—the desert, the Rocky Mountains, the continent itself, lie between. But to effect them to the artist of the adments the self, lie between their testes direct them.

This racesoul is forcing its way through us, as a people, in the totality of our American affairs, but it is destined sooner or later to break through in some spot of our land in the complete fullness of its essential glory, and when it does it will find its highest expression in that community which presents the most favorable combination of conditions for the externalization of its deepest qualities of freedom and aspiration. If we read the indications aright, not the least of which are the peculiar place which the Southwest holds in the national imagination and its apparent genius of intellectual and spiritual freedom, it is difficult to conceive where else such a consummation is to be effected.

We are working hard and doing wonders in this incredible Southwest. But progress in the direction which we are considering does not consist only in redoubling the stupendous efforts now being made on understood lines. It demands expanded spiritual horizon, perspective, look off. It calls for evolutionary orientation of a sort to increase the understanding and purposefulness of our creative endeavor. DREAM DRIVER DENOUNCED

> ts Are Too Full of Lovers nd What-Nots, Says Safety Lecturer

Declaring that "the streets are full of day dreamers, joy-riders, lovers and what-nots," Sergt. E. L. Johnson, of the police bureau of public safety, stressed the value of carefulness in motor driving in a noon-day talk delivered yesterday over EHJ.

"They forget to make hand

"They forget to make hand signals, boulevard and school stops," he said, referring to the careless. "They drive through twenty-mile sones at thirty-five miles an hour. They are always in hot water or having narrow escapes. And when they snap out of it at the shrilling of a police whistle, or the impact of a crash they are full of alibis and blame everybody but themselves.

Sergt. Johnson also spoke last evening at Lincoln Park in conjunction with the showing of a four-reel film on traffic safety. The same film and talk will be featured this eve-ning at Point Fermin, San Pedro, at 7:30 o'clock.

Grandpop passed on a motorcycle, pursuing a joke for the lads and lassies. Queen Titania explained that this was Uncle John's Garden and the corner where they were was known as the Children's Hour. Here, Queen Titania and the Sandman left Uncle John and when he heard the sound of celeste music he discovered that he was once more back in the studio. Bay Feterson, 5-year-old reader, told about "Pa's Radio" in a way that won the hearts of his listeners. The mandolin solos played by George Kerr were quite up to his standard, and were most enjoyable.

The noon program presented all men—Arthur Goodstein in blue songs, Red Wyatt with his ukulele, Clyde Jewett in piano solos, and the Los Angeles Hawalian Quartet. A visitor who happened in, Tom Murrsy, strummed a ukulele and sang some of his own brand of songs. There was much fun, and altogether, it was an enjoyable hour.

The closing hour of dance music was given by the Los Angeles Railway Orchestra. ?

"I am delighted to say that after using your I-ON-A-CO for less than a month, I find my chronic bronchial conditions very much improved and my catarrh practically well. I had been suffering for years." Mary L. Fox, Hollenbeck Home, Los Angeles.

THE above letter exemplifies the positive, definite results obtained by I-ON-A-CO in the treatment of catarrh. However, those with an inquiring mind might venture the question, "Yes, but just how does the I-ON-A-CO secure such results?"

CAUSE OF CATARRH: To answer this question, we must obviously first consider what catarrh is. Medical science defines it as inflammation of the mucous membrane. Now what causes this inflamed condition? Any physician will tell you that inflammation is due to the presence of toxic matter, and it represents the effort of the system to eliminate such material. Very well, let us carry the questioning a step farther and ask, "Where does this toxic matter come from, and how can we get rid of it?"

TOXIC POISONING: Now every student of elementary physiology knows that the body is composed of millions of cells. New cells are continually being born, and old cells dying. Normally, the blood, in carrying oxygen to the tissues, oxidizes these dead cells, picks them up, and carries them to the eliminative organs. But when the dead cells are not oxidized, they remain in the body and become highly poisonous. Hence the inflammation arises from the increased effort of the overburdened mucous, attempting to perform a function which should normally be performed by the kidneys and intestines—that is, elimination of poisons.

WARBURG'S DISCOVERY: Until very recently, there was no way of getting rid of these poisonous dead cells. Then came the discovery of Professor Otto Warburg, who demonstrated the fact that it is the iron in the blood which causes the oxygen to unite with the tissue cells. This discovery immediately made possible a very simple way of getting rid of the dead cells. Iron, as you know, can be magnetized. Hence the I-ON-A-CO, through magnetization, improves the ability of the iron in uniting oxygen with the tissue cells. Oxidation of the dead cells is accelerated. The blood then picks them up and carries them to the kidneys and intestines, instead of overburdening the skin and mucous membrane.

DELIGHTFUL, FREE TREATMENTS: Of course, the explanation of even so simple a device as the I-ON-A-CO may seem a trifle formidable. However, we ask you to accept no proof of the I-ON-A-CO'S effectiveness other than your own experience. You can call at any one of the I-ON-A-CO offices and take a delightful 10-minute treatment without charge or any obligation whatever. You can experience for yourself what the I-ON-A-CO will do. I can think of no fairer test.

Doug and Mary Vacation

A trip abroad ian't really a vacation, think Douglas Pairbanks and Mary Pickford. Accordingly the pair have gone a-camping down on the shore near Laguna, where they have a real old-fashioned tent and some comfy old clothes, not to mention fishing rods and bathing suits.

The pair have carried a lot of stories along with them to read, hoping, perhaps, that the sad sea waves may give them inspiration, so they may have something definite to announce when they return as to what their next pictures will be. It is expected that the two stars will return the latter part of the present week. In the meantime they are fishing, bathing, loading and reading to their hearts' content, far from the maddening crowd and all that sort of thing.

Anita Stewart Hurts Ankie

Well, we always told you no good could come from these gallivanting dances. Anita Stewart is proving it these days. This charming 'oung actress has been in bed two days with a badly wrenched ankle suffered when somebody dancing the new Black Bottom steps and trying to show speed over at the Ambassador the other night, leaped on the dainty Anita's foot, badly damaging it. It is likely that Miss Stewart's own intensive study of the dance will be interrupted for two or three weeks.

Her performance is above the average, and in addition to the star, there are such diverting personalities as El Brendell and his trick mouse, Charl' Paddock, of sprinting fame, and an attractive new leading man, John Hall.

The Potbolier Art Theater announces that Virginia Pearson will play the leading role in "Magda", the initial fall production of the organization, to take place at the Gamut Club, October 20.

A tremendous ovation greeted George Arilas in Milwaukee ast night on the occasion of his appearance in the John Calisworthy play, "Old English," according to dispatches from the eastern city.

The Davidson Theater, which houses the attraction, reports the largest haudience of paid admissions in its history.

This is Arilas' first transcontintal tour in twelve years. The Winthrop Ames production will probably a seen in Los Angeles some time this winter.

The Cafe Lafayette orchestra, under the direction of Harry Owens, is rehearsing a special program of dance music to be featered at the premiere, including compositions of the composer-conductor not yet published. HE greatest opening day crowd in the history of the Los Angeles County Fair passed through the new $10,000 entrance to the fair grounds at Pomona in the wake of Gov. At noon the 15,000 mark, opening day attendance last year, had been passed by several thousand with the prospect that before the end of the first day that figure would be the prospect that before the largest, most beautiful and best balanced ever offered to fiesta-loving Southern California.
